

Ian Heard's Watercolour Workshops

Saturday Sessions

December 3rd 2011
Whitchurch Community Hall, Tavistock
From 10.00am to 4.00pm

Continuing our watercolour courses, we're starting an occasional series of Saturday Sessions for painters who find weekends easier to attend. Some of our painters also like a sustained painting day, where they can achieve more than is usual in our Wednesday mornings. We hope to progress with one a month in the new year.

Temperature, Light and Shade

In response to interest in holiday painting, I'm often asked how to portray a better sense of heat and shade in watercolour. We'll be looking at warm and cool palettes in particular and how to achieve more atmosphere in a landscape, whether painting on the spot, or later using photographic reference.

Artists are encouraged to bring their own projects to progress along with their favourite paints and sketchbooks etc.

£40.00 per day.
Tea and coffee provided
Please bring your own lunch
